

Creating a Supportive Housing Plan

How Can Technology Help?

A session for adults with a developmental disability and their families.

Supports to live independently are often the largest barrier faced by families helping their loved ones to create a sustainable housing plan.

While technology can never replace human touch, it can certainly help to increase independence thus decreasing the need (and expense) for human “Just in Case” supports.

Join Tracy Girard, Developmental Services Ontario Housing Navigator, in a discussion about the various types of technological assistance available today and how others have implemented its use to increase independence and reduce support costs.

When: Wednesday, March 27th, 2019

Time: 7:00 to 9:00 PM

Where: 425 North Edward Street, Unit #11 | Northwood Park Plaza
